NATIONAL PARKS OF CALIFORNIA.

Department of Interior Proposes to Spend During the Fiscal Year $381,620 Upon Them

The Department of the Interior proposes to spend $381,620 in the national parks in California during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, if the amount requested by the Secretary of the Interior is appropriated by Congress. This is an increase of $314,070 over the appropriation for the current fiscal year. The increases requested are as follows: Yosemite National Park, from $15,550 to $89,550; General Grant National Park, from $2,000 to $17,250. The items for each park are as follows:

Yosemite National Park—New road along south rim of Yosemite Valley from Fort Monroe to Glacier Point, $75,000; improving the road on the north side of Merced River from Pohono bridge to the junction with the Coulterville road $50,210; continuing the improvement of the road on the south side of Merced River from Camp Ahwanee to Happy Isles, $46,750; a reenforced concrete bridge to replace the Sentinel bridge over Merced River, $14,000; construction of trail from Merced Lake up the Merced River Canyon to the head of the Merced River, $5,000; construction of trail from the head of Lyell Fork Meadows to the Lyell Glacier, $1,500; continuing the installation of the water-distributing system in the Yosemite Valley, $25,000; garbage incinerator, $6,900; operating the present road-sprinkling system, $7,500; the extension of the road-sprinkling system to Fort Monroe and Happy Isles and operation of the same, $7,500; repair of existing roads, trails, bridges, culverts, buildings, plants, fences, camp sanitation, and removal of undergrowth, $25,000; salaries, $10,460.

Sequoia National Park—Widening 21 miles of Giant Forest wagon road to 18 feet and constructing drain culvert, $25,000; constructing 40 miles of trail, $12,006; improving 150 miles of trail, $15,000; construction of 20 miles of telephone line, $8,000; fencing 50 miles of park boundary, $10,000; completion of water system for Tourist Camp at Camp Sierra, including public drinking fountains, $2,500; constructing a stairway and hand rail on Moro Rock, $2,500; construction of pier, bathouse, and boathouse at Twin Lakes, $2,000; improvement and development of Paradise and Clough caves, $2000; piping water from Log Creek to Military Camp, $2,000; repainting Marble Fork bridge, $250; fencing rangers pasture and constructing and painting rangers cabins, $2,400; salaries of rangers, $5,700.

General Grant National Park—Construction of two miles of wagon road, $5,000; construction of 2 miles of trail, $400; completing water-supply system at Tourist Camp, $500; fencing Tourist Camp ground, $800; rebuilding 8 miles of park boundary fence, $1,600; construction and improving park buildings, $1,050; forestation and protection of growing forest, $5,000; construction of three gateways and entrances to park, $750; construction of public bath house, $750; salary of park ranger, $1,400.

For the development and care of the national parks the Secretary of the Interior has asked Congress to appropriate the sum of $791,080.60 an increase of $617,830.61 over the appropriations for the current fiscal year. The national parks constitute ideal recreation grounds for thousands of people, but their development and use are seriously retarded by the lack of adequate roads and trails, and until sufficient money is appropriated for beginning a comprehensive plan of developmens the parks will fall far short of rendering the important public use for which they are intended, The general public interest in these pleasure grounds is shown by the fact that in a list recently issued by the department of the interior 390 magazine articles on the parks are enumerated. It is the intention of the department to make the principal places of interest in the parks more accessible, to render traveling more comfortable by sprinkling the roads throughout the dry season, and to guard the health of the traveler by the installation of proper water supply and sewerage systems. The responsibility for the future conduct of the national parks must rest with Congress, but the department feels that the financial needs of these reservations should be clearly presented to Congress in the annual estimates.

NEW ENTERPRISE FOR SONOMA.

Complete Line of Poultry and Stock Foods and Supplies Now Accessible to Residents of this Valley.

With the opening of the store formerly conducted by J. W. Morrisey on Broadway, opposite the One-mile House, residents of Sonoma and vicinity will be afforded an opportunity to buy poultry and stock food and supplies of any variety without the necessity of waiting for rail shipments from San Francisco. Town and valley have long felt the need of just such a house as this, and it will no doubt be appreciated for its worth to our growing industries.

The new firm, Hughes & Kistle, are extensively engaged in poultry raising on the Morrisey place and have been fortunate enough to secure for this market the entire line of poultry and stock feeds manufactured by the old established and well-known house of Geo. H. Crowley Company, Inc., of San Francisco, pioneers in their line, and well and favorably known all over the coast. The motto of this concern has always been "quality" and the fact that the high standard attained in the early days of the firm's existence has always been maintained is what has made the Crowley products stand for perfection in poultry supplies.

It would, indeed, be an unappreciative hen which could stroll into Hughes & Kistle's place of business and inspect the line of different feeds, grit, bone, meat scrap, etc., arranged in perfectly sanitary feed troughs, the water in the same sanitary founts, remedies for whatever ills may have befallen her, without stepping over to a sanitary nest and leaving her calling card. Nothing short of jealousy induced by the sight of the Old Homestead and Essex incubators would prevent it.

They also carry a full line of Columbia veterinary remedies, in fact anything for beast or fowl, whether sick or well or convalescing. The line of sanitary coops, feed and water troughs, roosts, nests, founts and various other accessories will interest the poultry raiser, as this is the first time a line of these goods has been shown in this vicinity.

The senior member of the firm, Mr. Arthur L. Hughes, is a chicken expert of long experience and is always willing and anxious to give anyone the benefit of this experience. Associated with him is Mr. Wm. J. Kistle, a young man who heard the call of Sonoma Valley, and hearing, listened. They are reasonably certain that by close application to business, fair dealing, and the backing that the reputation of the George H. Crowley Company, Inc., has gained, they will build up a business that will be of mutual benefit to themselves and the citizens of Sonoma and vicinity, a result which the INDEX-TRIBUNE heartily wishes them.

THE MEANING OF THAT CARD.

It is Labeled "Manifest" and is Tacked on Southern Pacific Freight Cars Temporarily Side-Tracked

Have you happened to travel over the Southern Pacific between California and Chicago within the last few months and have you noticed the large card bearing the word "manifest" tacked on the sides of freight cars that were temporarily on the sidings? Of course you have. But have you inquired the meaning of that card? Of course not. Well, this little story is to tell you all about that card and what it means to the farmers of the state of California.

It is a means for checking the movement of freight and originated by G. F. Richardson, superintendent of transportation of the Southern Pacific. By this system the railroad can inform a shipper of the exact position of his carload of products anywhere between California and Chicago, at any time.

It is a part of the Southern Pacific's expedited freight service to the east. Through freight from both southern and northern California points is now being delivered in Chicago on the morning of the eighth day after being loaded. The card with the word "manifest" insures its speed and if for any reason it becomes necessary for one of these cars to be taken out of a train for repairs, that same card is an order to the conductor of the next train that passes to pick it up and take it on to Chicago even if he has to take a car out of his own train to do it.

It is a well known fact that seventy-five per cent. of the revenue of a railroad comes from the freight business. The reason for this expedited freight service is to accommodate the large and increasing movement of California products. It does away with all the uncertainty. A shipper can rest assured that when his products are loaded on a car in either the northern or southern part of the state that they will arrive in Chicago on the eighth day.

Prosperity in Banking Circles

W. R. Williams, Superintendent of Banks, in his second annual report to the Governor, says in regard to the banking conditions of California:

"The general condition of the banks in this State is very satisfactory and the growth of the banking business during the fiscal year which closed on June 30, 1911, as compared with the preceding fiscal year was healthy, normal and gratifying. As a reflection of the general prosperity of the state it is a matter which must appeal significantly to all observers. During the last fiscal year the aggregate assets of the State banks of California increased in the sum of $40,843,431, the grand total being $608,858,170, an extraordinary total when the financial and industrial conditions are taken thoroughly into consideration. On the closing day of the fiscal year, loans and disoounts made by the State banks showed an increase of more than $27,000,000, the aggregate being $379,064,485. The cash in banks decreased something over $1,000,000, undoubtedly caused by an increased market for loans. The combined capital of the state institutions increased more than $1,000,000, and the surplus made an equal advance.

"There is, perhaps, even a greater meaning attached to the fact that during the last fiscal year the individual deposits made an advance of more than $27,000,000 over what they were during the fiscal year which closed on June 30, 1910. At the close of the last fiscal year, there were to the credit of the individuals of California, in the State banks of California, $401,195,255.

"These figures, stated broadly, speak eloquently for themselves and for the industry and frugality and prosperity of the people of this State. Considered from the point of view of business and financial activity, the banking situation in California is entirely satisfactory."

This part of the report, meets with our approbation and we gladly give space to it as it assures the Governor that our State banks are enjoying extraordinary prosperity which speaks well for California. The balance of the report, however, is a fling at Williams' predecessor, Alden Anderson, who left a fine record behind as a State officer, and is indulged in for self-laudation and political purposes only and out of common decency should not have been incorporated into a state document. Therefore it is cut out and consigned to the waste basket with its accumulation of other rubbish.

People whose partisanship is so intensely narrow that they never make allowance for the convictions of others are oftentimes puzzled at the friendly personal relations that exist between men of radically opposing political views. They have the idea that political or legal difference must necessarily include personal hostility. Readers of Dickens will recall how Pickwick gave way to angry passions when in the famous trial of Bardle vs. Pickwick he saw his lawyer and that of the widow laughing together in most friendly fashion at dinner and after having attacked each other in court. So the recent pleasant amenity displayed by President Taft and Mr. Bryan at a recent banquet may have caused some to shake their heads disapprovingly. Yet a little reflection ought to convince any one that political, religious or other differences ought not to interfere with personal friendship. That frequently it used to in former days is true, but in this age of broader views enlightenment bigotry and narrowness are fast disappearing.

Coughs and Colds

The approval of their physician and the experience of many years have given them great confidence in this standard cough medicine. Sold for seventy years.

Any good doctor will tel you that a medicine like Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cannot do its best work if the bowels are constipated. Ask your doctor if he knows anything better than Ayer's Pills for correcting this sluggishness of the liver.

VINEBURG NEWS ITEMS

"Easy Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and About His Section of the Valley.

Miss Mary Batto returned from San Francisco on Monday evening.

Mrs. Edward Johanssen and her two daughters visited the Bay City on last Saturday.

Plowing and seeding has started in this part of the valley and a good rain would be welcome.

Henry Gundlach transacted business here on Saturday and returned to the city the same day.

As soon as the railroad company starts to install the electric lights at the station here it will also have an electric clock. Vineburg will be going some then, sure.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Walker returned to their home on the Hyde tract last Monday after a visit lasting three months to Idaho. Welcome home to Sunny California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Batto were passengers on Wednesday morning's train to San Francisco where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Figone (nee Katie Batto)

Mr. Edward Mitchell and Miss Marie Mitchell of the Hyde tract went to the Bay City on Wednesday afternoon to spend Thanksgiving day with their mother and sisters.

Dr. W. B. Hays, Jack Gottenberg and Walter Bundschu visited this burg Sunday last and were entertained by Henry Pape at E. Forni's Pleasant Villa in a royal manner.

All the leading members of the Box Car Irrigation Club went fishing one day this week, but could not find any water soft enough for fish to live in. Better change the club's name, boys.

E. Forni and Jack Murray, two of our most expert wing shots, spent two days hunting in the tules this week, but we don't know whether they were after grasshoppers or turkeys.

Roy Peirce of Buena Vista has just completed building a swell hunting boat for Messrs. Henry Pape and Louis Rouquie. Those gallant gentlemen have christened her "The Vineburg Belle."

Say, Ed, how about things being so quiet here. We are getting nervous. Get a move on and be game.

The Schellville colony people are busily engaged in road-building under the personal supervision of Thomas Lewis, Al Trautvetter and Raoul Lyman.

All my lady assistants must be on a strike as I have not heard a word from them the past week. However, Thanksgiving comes but once a year and as that is a legal excuse we will pass it by.

An auto party consisting of John Batto, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Batto, Charles Groskopf and Miss Louisa Batto motored to Napa city on Sunday last and were the guests of friends and relatives. All report a pleasant time.

Enrico Forni of Pleasant Villa paid a visit to San Francisco last Wednesday morning to bid his sister, who was about to depart for her old home in sunny Italy, a fond farewell and wish her bon voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hunter of "The Knoll" entertained a number of friends at their pretty home Thanksgiving day. The dinner was a perfect dream of culinary art and will long be remembered by their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Townsend and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry A. Pape, visited in Mill Valley on Thanksgiving day, where they were entertained by the Townsends. The visit was a most enjoyable one.

Thanksgiving day was duly celebrated at Batto's spur, where Messrs. Fred. and Arthur Batto entertained a large number of friends and relatives with an elaborate dinner. They were assisted in entertaining by their charming wives and the other ladies of the family circle.

ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

H. Calliaud, the Wealthy Owner of Buena Vista Rancho, Charged With Assault With a Deadly Weapon

A sensational arrest was made Monday by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, when he took into custody H. Calliaud, the millionaire owner of Buena Vista rancho, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out in Judge Campbell's court by C. Minelli, the well-known cement and stone mason contractor, who alleges that Calliaud assaulted him with a heavy piece of scantling on Sunday last.

It appears that Minelli visited the Buena Vista rancho on Sunday to collect a bill from Calliaud for work done upon the place by him. The bill was disputed by Calliaud, who then became greatly excited and it is alleged by Minelli that he was assaulted with the bludgen while in his cart and in the act of driving away.

The accused was released from custody upon his own recognizance to answer to the alleged assault in Judge Campbell's Court later on.

A Santa Rosa "Reformer" in Solitary Confinement.

F. C. Richardson, a one time reformer of Santa Rosa, who sought to eliminate the saloons and redlight section of that city and later convicted for leading young girls astray, and occupying a cell in the county jail pending an appeal to the appellate court, is now in solitary confinement.

Mrs. Richardson was caught giving her husband money on one of her visits to him, and was also caught taking notes from him to be delivered to people outside the jail. This is against the rules of the jail and for the rule being broken Richardson is given the extreme punishment of solitary confinement.

Eggs Take a Tumble

Eggs which have been soaring skyward for some time reached a limit of 50½c per dozen Tuesday, but on Wednesday they took a tumble and were quoted at 43½c. Time was when eggs sold here at 10 cents per dozen and no one would eat them because they were too cheap. Like the once much despised prune they are now a table luxury when it comes to paying the price.

The company is now given the power to issue bonds and proceed to business.

The company merges into one management the Northwestern Electric Company, the Russian River Light and Power Company, the Sonoma Valley Company and the Clear Lake Consolidated Company.

Fred. L. Wright, the head of the big concern, has stated to a Press Democrat reporter that the California Telephone and Light Company would also take over the business of the Healdsburg Telephone Company, the Bennett Valley Telephone Company, the Cotate Company and other rural concerns as soon as arrangements can be consummated. The company will also run a light and power line to Cotati, and over the Cotati section.

The California Telephone & Light Company obtains its electricity from the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, and from the Snow Mountain Power Company. It will have substations at Fulton and at Sebastopol. Mr. Wright was in Sacramento Thursday, and filed the articles of incorporation of the company with Secretary of State Jordan. A BALLOON THAT FAILED.

It Was to Have Startled Paris In 1834, but It Refused.

A dirigible balloon, L'Aigle, was to have made a journey from the Champ de Mars on Aug. 17, 1834. The poetic wording of the prospectus is in itself a curiosity, and the aerostat also was not wanting in interest. It was forty meters long—that is, 130 feet—and fifteen in width—that is, forty-eight feet nine inches. It had the form of a monster sea fish and was inflated with hydrogen.

Within was a second envelope, which, with the aid of pumps, compressed or rarefied the air for ascending or descending, as the case might be. At the extremities were two great "roues a ailettes" for steering purposes.

There was no motor, and the navigators had to work the machinery with their hands. The car of wicker was described as a marvel of comfort, with seats for ten persons. The dirigible was to have made its ascent with the two aeronauts, MM. Lenon and Edam, who were to have been accompanied by their wives.

The prospectus of the 1834 dirigible informed the public that the inventor had constructed two years ago at Montmartre a monster machine which he raised one night far away from curious eyes to study its capabilities, but the result was not equal to his expectations. Today, after great improvements, the apparatus was ready for victory.

This would be achieved in the presence of a great concourse of spectators, and the inventor and his wife, with several people, would make the ascent. Given favorable wind, two hours would be sufficient for the journey to London, which is ninety-eight leagues from Paris. The itinerary was indicated with great precision.

But in spite of the magnificent promises and after the expenditure of great trouble and energy the apparatus was got to the Champ de Mars, but beyond that it would not move. The crowd was enraged and smashed the machine.—Paris Letter.

Greatest of Infant Prodigies.

Perhaps the most marvelous infant prodigy on record was Christian Heinecker, born at Lubeck, Feb. 6, 1721. At the age of ten months he could speak and repeat every word which was said to him, when twelve months old he knew by heart the principal events narrated in the Pentateuch, in his second year he knew most of the Bible by heart, and before he was three he learned to speak Latin and French. In his fourth year he employed himself in the study of religion and the history of the church, and his fame as a scholar spread so that the king of Denmark sent for him and was amazed at his learning. But before he was five years of age he fell sick and died.—London Chronicle.

Retold Stories

The girl was telling the man an anecdote, and a queer look passed over his face. The girl stopped, embarrassed. "I am afraid I have told you this story before," she stammered.

"Yes, you have," the man admitted frankly, "but don't worry. It isn't half so bad as what happened to me yesterday. A man told me a story that I had originally told him. Worse yet, he got all mixed on it, lost the point entirely and then expected me to laugh at it."

"And you couldn't?"

"Oh, yes, I could, but not the way he thought."—New York Press.

A Girl's Way.

"Why do you keep asking me to be your wife? You surely wouldn't want me to marry you if I didn't love you."

"No, I don't want you to marry me if you don't love me, but I can't help thinking the practice I'm getting in asking you may some time come in handy. Now I'm going to give you another chance to turn me down."

"Oh, well, if you're determined to have me I suppose I may as well say yes."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Danger Line.

"Once," said Brother Dickey, "dar wuz a man who prayed dat he might git out o' de wilderness, an' his pra'r wuz answered, an' time he got out a ordermobile run over him, an' then 'bout de time he riz up an' breshed de dust from off him a a'rship felled on him, an' w'en he come ter hisse'f ag'in a policeman told him ter move on, so he lifted up all de voice what he had left an' prayed fer a harricane ter blow him back ter whar he come from!"—Atlanta Constitution.
